Experience Highlights

TOTAL NIGERIA PLC

TREASURY ANALYST (TREASURY DEPARTMENT)

2018 – PRESENT

Total Nigeria PLC is the marketing and services subsidiary of Total Energies – a multinational energy company- in Nigeria which is concerned with marketing of fuels, lubricants, fluids and other energy products. As Treasury Analyst, I

- Manage treasury planning and work alongside the control team, preparing daily treasury reports, monitoring inflows and outflows across all the company's partner banks; Ensure the company meets up with its working capital requirement
- Ascertain the accuracy of finance income and monitor bank charges for all banks, confirming that they are in accordance with agreed conditions; Ensure recovery of refunds where charges are in excess to minimise financing cost
- Participate in the execution of day-to-day cash management across all organisational project mandates
- Allocate banks for payment with the aim of equilibrating bank balances and reducing bank charges; utilizing surplus funds generated from operations to achieve optimum results
- Prepare monthly treasury report detailing analysis and forecast of cash flows in the company's accounts and different business units, comparing forecast and justifying variations
- Analyse and monitor trends in cash flow and provide daily and weekly information to management to aid decision making and for credit control purposes
- Supervise the activities of the Auto Receipting Team who work with the WEB API tool to administer and update data in real time
- Serve as an intermediary between the Sales team and banks to promptly resolve and attend to requests, complaints and all issues arising related to customer transactions; Ensure that Total Nigeria PLC gets value for all payments and is protected against fraud

- Key member of the process optimisation team, responsible for WEB API interface compliance across all of the company's banking partners. I subsequently worked to improve and fine tune the WEB API tool and improved customer satisfaction and loyalty while simultaneously reducing incidences of fraud

PAYMENT EXECUTIVE – FINAL ACCOUNTS DEPARTMENT

2016 – 2018

- Optimised the processing of internal and external bills while following procedures and paying attention to details. This successfully resulted in the fluidity of business activities across departments and refined the interdependence chain
- Managed data, including the correct aggregation and filing of payments across different payment channels into SAP
- Effectively managed the petty cash account and data base of the company ensuring that cash-flow was unhampered
